

SPEAK OUT AGAINST DRUGGING FOR PROFIT TODAY!

MISSION STATEMENT: Our goal is to raise awareness about the overmedicating of America & the deception occurring within the psychiatric profession, the inhumanity of involuntary hospitalization, the preying on innocent people, especially children, in order to turn a profit, & the dangers of the drugs used to treat alleged mental illnesses. We also wish to expose conspiracies of corporate control over the mental health system. The pharmaceutical industry offers billions of dollars in financial incentives to promote, push, & advertise their drugs. The FDA's failure to properly research & inform the public has cost many lives & has destroyed many families. The NIMH (National Institute of Mental Health) watches our children's brains become damaged from medications & have distorted their studies & conclusions to favor the pharmaceutical industry. So many well trusted organizations whose main goal is to help & protect us from harm & abuse have chosen to put money before our safety & well being. The financial incentives to "diagnose" & "medicate" human beings with dangerous drugs permeate every level of our society. We are paying the price not only financially but with our own lives, the lives of our children, & our sanity.

We can restore Americans' right to informed consent by insisting they receive all the information available & known on any "treatment" or drug. By uniting across the country, we can work together to raise awareness & make a tremendous impact for the good of humankind. We can beat the corruption in the system. We don't have the billions of dollars of drug profits to use in our efforts, but we do have sound minds to make sound decisions based on TRUE & ACCURATE information that would make one think twice before getting that prescription filled. We can make an impact by saying no to drugs - refusing to buy mind-altering prescription drugs & many other unneeded prescription drugs that fund the drug industry, & encouraging others to do so as well. We must speak out!

Let us work together to erase the stigma of being labeled "mentally ill." If mental illnesses were true brain diseases, there would be no controversy surrounding this subject. The controversy exists because research continues to contradict the use of medications despite the insistence of psychiatry that their theories are correct. The so called "diseases or illnesses" were voted into existence in the DSM to encourage profits for many organizations & professions on many different levels. We believe that human suffering, though very real, does not indicate a dysfunction of the brain & can be treated & healed with safer, more natural approaches than dangerous, addictive, psychotropic drugs. The human brain is the most complex organ in our bodies. Efforts to understand the brain continue to be used to sell the chemical imbalance theory even though the results of studies are inconclusive & contradictory.
